

Farewell to the Rippey School,

1921-2012

The walls will cry,
And so will I,
As children go from here.

No bells will ring,
Or children sing,
When school days end for all.

The building stands,
As many hands,
Found learning through these doors.

Yet time for friends,
Will never end,
For students young and old

The lights go out,
No ones's about,
Yet memories live on.

Nancy Bardole Hanaman
May 23, 2012

Student at Rippey Consolidated School, 1951-1962