

Gardens of Words

Colleen O'Brien

The words . . . they keep wording

A wild garden of propagation

On my desk

Like new weeds in my backyard

Rhizomes and pollen

From A to Z

Letters grafting onto other letters

Voila! A new word!

26 letters make a million words!

More prolific than grass seed

The fruitful cross-fertilization

Letters-busily multiplying

Like dandelions and larkspur

The busyness of letters bloomin'

Into a new bouquet a day

Words flourish and take over
